大問3B Lucas's Report

3通のメールを読み、後の設問に答えなさい。

From: Lucas Miller
To: Kevin Miller
Date: May 8
Subject: About your city

Hi Grandpa,
How are you? Can you help me? I must write a report for my social studies class by next Friday. I have to write about another city. Can I interview you about your city this Saturday? There's an exciting summer festival in your city, right?
Write back soon,
Lucas

From: Kevin Miller
To: Lucas Miller
Date: May 8
Subject: Sure!

Hi Lucas,
I'm fine! Yes, there's a summer festival in my city, but my city also has interesting festivals in other seasons. Last autumn, you came here and joined a pumpkin festival, right? We made many pumpkin pies and shared them with everyone at the festival. There's also a cherry blossom festival in spring. In winter, there's a beautiful winter parade. My city has big festivals in all seasons. Anyway, I can answer your questions for your report. However, I have a lot of work to do this Saturday and Sunday morning. How about on Sunday afternoon? If it's not in the morning, I can meet you! Can you come here alone by train?
Keep in touch,
Grandpa

大問3C 長文

本文を読み、次ページのQ26-Q30に答えなさい。

Ansel Adams

Ansel Adams was a famous photographer in the United States. He was born in 1902. As a child, he could not focus in class and did not like school. Adams enjoyed taking walks in nature and playing the piano. Adams played the piano for over ten years in his childhood and was very good. He wanted to be a professional musician.

In the 1910s, Adams received his first camera. He took many pictures in a large park in the United States called Yosemite National Park. Adams often went hiking in the mountains there with his camera. When he was older, he joined a club of people who worked in the park and went on hikes with them. Adams loved to take pictures of the mountains in Yosemite National Park.

In the late 1920s, Adams decided to become a professional photographer instead of a professional musician. Then he made many books of his photos and sold them. His photos of beautiful nature were very popular. Many people thought the photos were very artistic and were like paintings, so they became popular. Adams worked for many companies and took pictures of new products.

However, Adams did not like taking pictures for companies because he believed photography was an art. He took photographs of nature and showed them in museums. Adams taught many people how to take pictures. In 1980, Adams received an award from the president of the United States to celebrate his life. Adams became one of the most famous photographers.
